Devotional Reflection

GRACE IS THE ROOT. GENEROSITY IS THE FRUIT. Throughout this week, we have been reminded that Christian generosity begins with the grace of God revealed through Jesus Christ. On Monday, we learned that grace begins with God, not with our worthiness or achievements. Tuesday directed our attention to the greatest gift of all: Jesus Christ, who willingly humbled Himself and gave His life for our salvation. These truths established the foundation for everything else we would consider. Before we can understand what it means to live generously, we must recognize the immeasurable grace God has already extended toward us.

As the week continued, we were challenged to move beyond simply knowing about grace and personally receive it through faith in Jesus Christ. Wednesday reminded us that salvation cannot be purchased through good works, religious activity, or financial giving. Through Christ, believers are justified and have peace with God. Thursday then turned our attention to the transforming work of grace within the heart. We learned that God is not merely concerned with outward acts of generosity. He is also transforming the motivations, priorities, and attitudes that shape our willingness to give and serve. WE DO NOT GIVE TO EARN GOD'S GRACE. WE LIVE GENEROUSLY BECAUSE WE HAVE RECEIVED GOD'S GRACE.

Friday reminded us that biblical generosity should be willing, wise, and responsible. Paul's teaching in 2 Corinthians 8 calls believers to give according to what they have rather than placing unreasonable hardship upon themselves or comparing their contributions with others. On Saturday, we began considering the different resources God has entrusted to us. We were reminded that generosity includes financial stewardship, but it also involves our time, abilities, encouragement, relationships, and opportunities. God has entrusted each of us with something that can be used to serve others. The challenge is to recognize what we have received and respond faithfully.

Today, as we continue our Live Generously series with WHAT'S IN YOUR HAND?, we carry forward the foundation established through GRACE FIRST. We recognize His grace, receive His grace through faith, and reflect His grace through the way we live. The next step is to examine what God has entrusted to us and how we can use it for His glory. We do not need to possess everything to be faithful with something. REMEMBER THE GRACE. RECOGNIZE THE GIFT. RESPOND WITH LOVE. May our lives continue demonstrating that God's grace does not merely change what we believe; it transforms how we live.

🔥 FOCUS FOR TODAY

🙏 PRAYER

Heavenly Father,

Thank You for Your amazing grace and for the salvation You have provided through Jesus Christ. Thank You for reminding us throughout this week that Your grace cannot be earned through our works, giving, or service.

Forgive us for the times we have allowed pride, comparison, fear, or selfishness to influence the way we live. Continue transforming our hearts through Your Holy Spirit so that our generosity becomes a sincere expression of gratitude for all You have done.

As we continue our Live Generously series, open our eyes to the gifts, resources, and opportunities You have entrusted to us. Give us wisdom to steward them responsibly and compassion to use them for the good of others.

Bless Life Transformation Church as we seek to demonstrate Your love throughout Roselle and the surrounding communities. May everything we do point people toward Jesus Christ and bring glory to Your name.

In Jesus' name, Amen.
