

Sunday September 6, 2020

Ephesians 6:5-9 “Together in Work”

Paul uses the civic term “citizens” (Eph. 2:19) to describe Christians, rather than the religious term “worshippers.” In fact, Ephesians gives virtually no instructions about what the church should do when it gathers, but several instructions about how its members should work.

In the ESV the word “work” is used 377 times in the Old Testament, and 195 times in the New Testament.

Math Problem

There are 168 hours in a week.		%
Subtract number of sleeping hours
Subtract number of work hours
Subtract commute hours
Subtract number of hours at home that you spend working (updating your spouse, answering emails, texts, phone calls,
Subtract number of hours in family/personal activities
Subtract number of hours in traditional ministry or Sunday church service
What is the remainder?

Small Group Questions

The real question is how can we transform work into a place of worship?

What is holding us back from engaging conversation with fellow co-workers?

When someone see you do they know you are a Christian?

Does your behavior inspire others to change theirs?

Join the Conversation

There will be a discussion group on “Transforming Work” starting Monday night at 8pm on Zoom. Join Andrew for a short video series and then a time to share and support each other in this area of work.

Zoom Meeting ID: 876 054 9575; Passcode is worship