Code of Conduct

Before leaving for ministry, the short-term missionary may be given an opportunity to announcement their ministry assignment and to participate in a public commissioning service.

Upon returning home, the short-term missionary should report back to the Missions Representative, after which the worker may be asked to complete an Evaluation of Ministry Form.

As a representative of Manor Gospel Church the short-term missionary is expected to behave in a manner that honors the Lord Jesus Christ and does not bring disgrace to Him or His Church.

As a representative of Manor Gospel Church the short-term missionary is expected to honor all financial commitments made with the sending organization (even in cases of medical emergencies).

The short-term missionary may be asked to give a brief verbal report or testimony to the congregation during a Sunday morning service.
