Jenny Vincent

Organist and Music Leader
Knox United Church, Parksville BC

Over her career, Jenny has played an eclectic mix of instruments ranging from the iconic Hammond B-3 jazz organ to Casavant Freres – 3000+ pipe organ. She has performed as a soloist throughout Canada and the United States and eagerly shares the stage with other musicians, choirs and her organist colleagues. It is Jenny's passion to make the organ a valued and accepted musical instrument in our mainstream society.

"Ms. Vincent is a superb artist who knows how to communicate with her audiences and how to make music of the highest quality. She is one of Canada's finest organists!"

James David Christie
Professor of Organ, Oberlin Conservatory of Music
Organist of the Boston Symphony Orchestra

"Jenny Vincent is a gifted organist with skill and dedication, who brings music to sparkling life. Sharing a concert series with her, presenting the complete organ works of Bach was an inspiring experience."

AT KNOX

Our Mission

Knox United Church, Parksville recently purchased and installed a new, technologically advanced digital organ – a Rodgers Artist 599 model. This unique installation builds on the surround-sound concept providing acoustically beautiful tones resonating throughout the building. This new organ is now at Knox thanks to the support of congregants as well as many individuals and businesses in the Oceanside community.

OrganWorx at Knox is a concept created as a way of joyfully sharing the pleasing sounds of this new instrument with the Oceanside community and beyond. The aim is to provide a variety of classical and contemporary organ concerts for area residents, featuring both solo performers and ensembles, such as organ with choir or organ with other instruments.

The mission of OrganWorx is to share the organ of the church with modern, main street society. Jenny Vincent and her guests will pursue this mission in three concerts planned for the inaugural 2017-18 season.
