Philippians 3:20

We are citizens of heaven, where the Lord Jesus Christ lives. And we are eagerly waiting for him to return as our Savior.

Encourage and Build Up One Another

In 1490 two struggling artists, who were brothers, Albrecht and Albert Durer, agreed that one would work full time to support both while the other studied. So Albrecht studied while Albert worked, with the understanding that when Albrecht became successful, he would return the favor. After attaining enormous success Albrecht went back to honor his agreement, only to discover the terrible price his brother Albert had paid. By engaging in hard manual labor Albert's fingers had become stiff and twisted and he could no longer paint. But instead of becoming jealous and bitter, Albert encouraged Albrecht and prayed for his continued success. In fact, one day while Albert was praying Albrecht quietly sketched his brother's gnarled, misshapen hands. Today his masterpiece, The Praying Hands, tells a story of love, sacrifice, and the power of encouragement.

The Bible tells us to encourage and build up one another. Just think of the people who have cheered you on as you struggled to reach life's milestones. The teacher who encouraged you to believe in yourself. The coach who pushed you to your limit to get you over the finish line. The boss who gave you the extra responsibility that led you to a promotion. The parents and grandparents who were there every step of the way. The entire chorus of encouragers who sustained you on your journey. Go ahead, drop them a note, send them an e-mail, surprise them with flowers. But, don't stop there, show your appreciation by doing the same for those around you now. Remember the praying hands? They were giving hands, working hands, and loving hands!

I Believe in the Church

I believe more profoundly in the church every hour that I live. A man can make his testimony go further through the church than through any independent movements. He can make his money, his testimony, and all his work go further. He can do more constructive work through the church than any other way in the world. That is my deepest conviction. I have watched all kinds of independent movements, and my conviction steadily deepens that a Christian is doing the wisest thing possible when he links his life with the church.
