

oneopencircle.org/spirituality-beyond-borders

teacher & host: Andrew Twiddy

offering an experiential interface and Canadian West Coast destination for the "Conspire" conference series and other resources of the Center for Action & Contemplation

Path of Descent: Path of Transformation

Fall 2018 Oceanside Midweek Program

guided contemplative practice, dynamic engagement with current CAC materials

Nov 07 – Dec 12, 2018

~ Six Wednesdays ~

choice of 9.15 am or 6.15 pm

How do we change and grow?
Rather than ideas or success, it is often uncertainty, failure, relapse, suffering (personal & communal), and woundedness that are our primary teachers.

Join us for the "Conspire 2018" interactive webcast, contemplative teachings & practices, with Richard Rohr, Barbara Holmes, Brian McLaren, Barbara Brown Taylor, and Mirabai Starr. Open your heart, mind, and body to the surprising wisdom to be found in darkness and descent. cac.org/conspire2018/

Andrew will be your local facilitator and host for theme elaboration, discussion, and contemplative practice.

Program Fee: no charge ~ by donation

For inquiries and registration:

spiritualitybeyondborders@gmail.com
St. Anne & St. Edmund, Parksville
407 Wembley Rd, Parksville, BC V9P 1R1
Phone: 250.248.3114

the 1990s, the number of people in the world who are under 15 years of age has increased by 1.2 billion, from 1.1 billion in 1980 to 2.3 billion in 1999. The number of people aged 15 years and over has increased by 1.1 billion, from 1.1 billion in 1980 to 2.2 billion in 1999. The number of people aged 65 years and over has increased by 0.2 billion, from 0.2 billion in 1980 to 0.4 billion in 1999.

These changes in the world population have led to a significant increase in the number of people who are under 15 years of age, from 1.1 billion in 1980 to 2.3 billion in 1999. This increase has been driven by a combination of factors, including a decline in the death rate, a decline in the birth rate, and a decline in the age at which people are having children.

The increase in the number of people who are under 15 years of age has led to a significant increase in the number of people who are aged 15 years and over, from 1.1 billion in 1980 to 2.2 billion in 1999. This increase has been driven by a combination of factors, including a decline in the death rate, a decline in the birth rate, and a decline in the age at which people are having children.

The increase in the number of people who are under 15 years of age has led to a significant increase in the number of people who are aged 65 years and over, from 0.2 billion in 1980 to 0.4 billion in 1999. This increase has been driven by a combination of factors, including a decline in the death rate, a decline in the birth rate, and a decline in the age at which people are having children.

The increase in the number of people who are under 15 years of age has led to a significant increase in the number of people who are aged 15 years and over, from 1.1 billion in 1980 to 2.2 billion in 1999. This increase has been driven by a combination of factors, including a decline in the death rate, a decline in the birth rate, and a decline in the age at which people are having children.

The increase in the number of people who are under 15 years of age has led to a significant increase in the number of people who are aged 65 years and over, from 0.2 billion in 1980 to 0.4 billion in 1999. This increase has been driven by a combination of factors, including a decline in the death rate, a decline in the birth rate, and a decline in the age at which people are having children.

The increase in the number of people who are under 15 years of age has led to a significant increase in the number of people who are aged 15 years and over, from 1.1 billion in 1980 to 2.2 billion in 1999. This increase has been driven by a combination of factors, including a decline in the death rate, a decline in the birth rate, and a decline in the age at which people are having children.

The increase in the number of people who are under 15 years of age has led to a significant increase in the number of people who are aged 65 years and over, from 0.2 billion in 1980 to 0.4 billion in 1999. This increase has been driven by a combination of factors, including a decline in the death rate, a decline in the birth rate, and a decline in the age at which people are having children.

The increase in the number of people who are under 15 years of age has led to a significant increase in the number of people who are aged 15 years and over, from 1.1 billion in 1980 to 2.2 billion in 1999. This increase has been driven by a combination of factors, including a decline in the death rate, a decline in the birth rate, and a decline in the age at which people are having children.

The increase in the number of people who are under 15 years of age has led to a significant increase in the number of people who are aged 65 years and over, from 0.2 billion in 1980 to 0.4 billion in 1999. This increase has been driven by a combination of factors, including a decline in the death rate, a decline in the birth rate, and a decline in the age at which people are having children.