

INTERLOCKING DOORS CONCEPT

The Interlocking Doors (represented by the arrows)

When the door between the Body & Soul is open then the door to the Soul & Spirit is closed and when the door to the Soul & Spirit is open then the door to the Body & Soul is closed.

The doors are interlocking when one door is open then the other door is closed. This is a picture of how internal processing and relationships may occur. This helps us to understand the cycle of healing as a process in its simplest form.

For the spirit, soul and body to challenge its own sense of being an agent of change, integration and rehabilitation - would we need to hold a different perspective, another look at allowing the spirit to come first?