Bertha Lake Hike

On August 5th, we are heading to Waterton to hike up to Bertha Lake. It's considered an intermediate hike, with one section containing steep switchbacks. It should take about 2.5hrs to make it up to the lake, and 1.5hrs to go back down. The recent forest fire has removed much of the shade from the trail, so make sure to pack sunscreen, sunglasses, a hat, and water! We should make it to the lake by lunchtime, where we'll make sure to rest and eat lunch. Supposedly the lake is quite cold, which may feel great to jump in if it's hot enough outside.

We will not be stopping at any restaurants before the hike, so make sure lunch, snacks and water are packed ahead of time. We will spend some time in the townsite afterwards, so feel free to pack some cash if you'd like.

What to pack

- Comfortable, weather appropriate clothes
- Hat & sunglasses
- Comfortable, durable shoes
- Sunscreen & insect repellent
- Packed lunch & snacks
- Lots of water!

Optional

- Swimsuit & towel
- Money for townsite
