Text: Exodus Chapter 15-16

1. The response of Israel to their deliverance is a song of praise. What major theme of this song really stands out to you? Why?
2. What are some lessons that we can take from Israel's initial testing in the wilderness in lacking both food and water?
3. With this testing came complaints against Moses. Do you think Moses could / should have done things differently? Who was really to blame for their current problems?
4. With God's instruction concerning the collection of mana came another instruction of weekly rest. Do you think it's still important for God's people to rest? How does the New Testament support your ideas?
5. Why do you think Israel insisted on gathering more than enough mana even though it went against God's instruction, and it meant more work?
