We've been considering Samson, the judge who possessed remarkable strength and yet was unable to rule over his own passions. Here are a few questions to ponder....

1. Which passions do I most struggle with? Some of the obvious ones include: sex, food, fame and fortune. There are others.
2. What has been helpful in my struggles?
3. Are there habits, practices or attitudes that weaken me in living for God? ... that strengthen me in living for God?
