

LETTING GO

In these moments, Lord I empty my hands and open them to you.
I let go of anger and resentment; fill and bless me with your love.
I let go of guilt and regret; fill and bless me with forgiveness.
I let go of self-pity and judgement; fill and bless me with a grateful heart.
I let go of worries and fear; fill and bless me with trust.
I let go of the hurts of the past; fill and bless me with the promise of the present.
Bless and keep me, Lord and here's the Fear one:
I invite you to receive this special message today that I believe the Lord has for you:
"Are you afraid?
Is fear right at the threshold of your heart?
Don't let it come in; trust in Me.
In every circumstance, keep your eyes fixed on Me.
I want to give you unshakeable faith,
A confidence in Me that surpasses your fears and doubts.
The assurance that My love is stronger, My love is greater,
Than all the situations you will face!
This is why, when doubt knocks on the door of your heart,
Don't open it! Confess My Word with assurance and authority.
Proclaim that I have not changed, that I am who I am!
The Alpha and the Omega, the First and the Last.
Declare that I am the One who heals and the One who provides,
The One who restores and the One who comforts.
I wanted you, and I created you!
I will accomplish in you what I've promised; I will do what I said.
Because I am not a man, that I should lie, nor a son of man, that I should repent.
Remain in faith, in peace, and in joy.
I am your Father, your friend, and your King. I will not leave you." - Eric Celerier
