If you look up the definition of “church” in Merriam-Webster dictionary or Dictionary.com you will discover that the first entry is “a building for public Christian worship.” When you read down to the third entry you will find one of these definitions: “the whole body of Christian believers” or “any division of this body professing the same creed and acknowledging the same ecclesiastical authority; a Christian denomination.”

There are many people who believe that the church is a building, even though that is not a biblical understanding of the church. The word “church” in the New Testament is a translation of the Greek word “ekklesia,” which means “an assembly” or “gathering of those who are called out.”

In Matthew’s gospel, Jesus said to the disciples. “But who do you say that I am?” Simon Peter replied, “You are the Christ, the Son of the living God.” And Jesus answered him, “Blessed are you, Simon Bar-Jonah! For flesh and blood has not revealed this to you, but my Father who is in heaven. And I tell you, you are Peter, and on this rock I will build my church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. Matthew 16:15-18 (ESV)

In Paul’s letter to the Ephesians he writes: “God has put all things under the authority of Christ and has made him head over all things for the benefit of the church. And the church is his body; it is made full and complete by Christ, who fills all things everywhere with himself.” Ephesians 1:22-23 (NLT2)

From these two passages, we can see that the “church” is clearly NOT a building, but a people. The church is made up of believers, with Christ as the head.

Another misconception of “church” is that the local church is like a small business where the pastor is the CEO and the people are the customers. With this understanding, some believe that the church exists to provide a menu of programs, activities, and events to be consumed by members.

Let me share two passages of scripture that reveal a different purpose for the church.

“We are citizens of heaven, where the Lord Jesus Christ lives. And we are eagerly waiting for him to return as our Savior.” Philippians 3:20 (NLT2)

“We are ambassadors for Christ, God making his appeal through us. We implore you on behalf of Christ, be reconciled to God.” 2 Corinthians 5:20 (ESV)

Perhaps a better image of the church is an embassy. As Christians, we are citizens of the kingdom of heaven, and the local churches on earth are little embassies of that kingdom. Since it is often the case that the values of the kingdom of heaven are in conflict with those of the world, we will likely find ourselves living in the hostile territory of this earthly realm. Here on earth we serve as soldiers in battle. This is why Paul says: “Be strong in the Lord and in his mighty power. Put on all of God’s armor so that you will be able to stand firm against all strategies of the devil. For we are not fighting against flesh-and-blood enemies, but against evil rulers and authorities of the unseen world, against mighty powers in this dark world, and against evil spirits in the heavenly places.” Ephesians 6:10-12 (NLT2)

I recently read an article by Matthew Emadi, who says: “The stakes are high, and we have work to do. When we disciple a new Christian, we’re not just being friendly; we’re preparing them for battle against the world, the flesh, and the devil (Eph. 3:13–14). When we gather for corporate worship on the Lord’s Day, we’re not just doing our duty; we’re displaying the manifold wisdom of God to the rulers and authorities in the heavenly places (Eph. 3:10). When we take part in missions and evangelism, we’re not peddling a product; we’re announcing to the world that all authority in heaven and on earth belongs to Christ, and Satan can no longer deceive the nations (Matt. 28:18–20; Col. 2:15).

During World War II, ordinary American citizens rationed consumer goods, recycled materials, and kept factories running night and day. They sacrificed much because they knew the stakes. Do we? Do we realize that we are citizens of Christ's kingdom? Do we realize our churches are outposts of that kingdom on the front lines of a spiritual battle? The stakes are high, and the needs are great. For this reason Christ calls every member of his church to enlist in service. Why? Because a local church is an embassy of Christ's kingdom." (Should the Church Operate Like a Business?, June 11, 2021)

What is your understanding of the church? Are you a member of a club? Are you a consumer of goods and services? Are you a citizen of heaven, fighting against the fake news and false truths of this world? Are you part of the body of Christ, a gathering of people that focus on sharing the good news of Jesus in a misguided and hurting world? What does the church mean to you?
