CONNECTING

In your own words, what is the difference between sanctification and glorification?

The death of a loved one or someone close to you can be very difficult. Why should Sunday's message on Glorification be an encouragement to us during a season of loss?

If we truly lived with the perspective that one day we will be glorified with God, how should that change the way we live today?

When we are young or in good health or caught up in the busyness of life and family, it is easy to forget that one day we will be gone from this world. What wisdom comes along with reminding ourselves that one day we will be glorified with God?

As Christians who have been given a mission from Jesus to reach our community and our world with the Gospel, why is it important to keep in mind that we have a limited amount of time on this earth?

DIGGING DEEPER

Read Romans 8:28. How can Christians and even the world take this verse out of context?

Read in context, what does Romans 8:28 mean?

Have you experienced a hardship or a difficult season of life and been able to observe God working it out for His glory?

Read Romans 8:29-30. Over the past three weeks, we have discussed the the process of change that takes place in an individuals life from before salvation to there eventual glorification in heaven. In your won words, please explain how Romans 8:29-30 describes that process.
