Finding Jesus Again

A Study in the Gospel of Mark

Mark 10

13 And they were bringing children to him that he might touch them, and the disciples rebuked them. 14 But when Jesus saw it, he was indignant and said to them, “Let the children come to me; do not hinder them, for to such belongs the kingdom of God.

Mark 10

15 Truly, I say to you,
whoever does not receive the kingdom of God like a child shall not enter it.” 16 And he took them in his arms and blessed them, laying his hands on them.

Nicolas Maes,
1652-53

Quick Observations

- ◆ The disciples get it wrong (again).
Los discípulos se equivocan de nuevo.

Quick Observations

- ◆ The disciples get it wrong (again).
- ◆ Jesus is 'indignant'.
Jesús está indignados.

Quick Observations

- ◆ The disciples get it wrong (again).
- ◆ Jesus is 'indignant'.
- ◆ There is an emphatic double statement.

Hay una declaración doble enfática.

Why welcome children? Why become like them?

1. The welcome of children demonstrates God's heart for the vulnerable.

La acogida de los niños demuestra el corazón de Dios por los vulnerables.

2. The welcome of children sets a different future in motion.

La acogida de los niños pone en marcha un futuro diferente.

Why welcome children? Why become like them?

3. The welcome of children upsets the schemes of status in our world.

La acogida de los niños trastorna los esquemas de estatus en nuestro mundo.

4. Children are a model for us of how to receive the Kingdom of God.

Los niños son un modelo para nosotros de cómo recibir el Reino de Dios.

A woman with short, curly brown hair and glasses is speaking at a podium. She is wearing a blue patterned top and a blue scarf. The background is dark and out of focus.

“Children have no accomplishments with which to earn God’s favor, no status that makes them worthy. In their dependency they exemplify the only disposition that makes entrance into the kingdom possible: simply to receive it as a pure, unmerited gift.”

-Dr. Mary Healy
