A woman with dark hair, wearing a light-colored headscarf and a matching shawl, stands in a dimly lit, stone-walled room. She is holding a large, dark, rounded jar or vessel. The room is illuminated by several torches mounted on the walls, creating a warm, orange glow. The woman's expression is serious and contemplative as she looks slightly to the side.

- Hebrews 11:31 New Living Translation

It was by faith that Rahab the prostitute was not destroyed with the people in her city who refused to obey God. For she had given a friendly welcome to the spies

Now Joshua the son of Nun sent out two men from Acacia Grove to spy secretly, saying, "Go, view the land, especially Jericho." So they went, and came to the house of a harlot named Rahab, and lodged there.

Concern for Her Family Shows a Kind and Compassionate Heart

“Give me some guarantee that when Jericho is conquered, you will let me live, along with my father and mother, my brothers and sisters, and all their families.”

Then, since Rahab's house was built into the town wall, she let them down by a rope through the window

Joshua 2:18 New Living Translation

When we come into the land, you must leave this scarlet rope hanging from the window through which you let us down. And all your family members—your father, mother, brothers, and all your relatives—must be here inside the house

Joshua 6:22
Meanwhile, Joshua said to the two spies, “Keep your promise. Go to the Rahab’s house and bring her out, along with all her family.”

God redefined Rahab — from a fallen woman to a chosen woman
from a bad girl to a bride from a mess to a mother from prostitute to ancestor of the Messiah

A wide-angle photograph of a vast, golden wheat field under a sunset sky. The sun is a bright, glowing orb on the right horizon, casting a warm, orange light across the scene. A large, dark green tree stands prominently in the middle ground, slightly to the left of the center. The wheat stalks in the foreground are in sharp focus, showing their intricate details and golden hues. The overall atmosphere is peaceful and serene.
