THE ADVENTURE GUILD

Our Heart

The world will shout "you are not enough!" We cannot let the world teach our sons how to become men. We believe that fathers, along with a community of trusted men, need to intentionally initiate the next generation of sons into Biblical manhood. Together we can help prepare our sons to take on life's challenges with confidence. We can raise them in the knowledge that they are known, loved and enough.

Bailey Rempel

Hello! My name is Bailey, one of my first experiences canoeing was on a father-son trip with a group from my church. This was an amazing experience where I learned practical skills and got to have fun with my Dad. Later in life I got to teach white water canoeing in the Explore program. Canoeing is the ultimate combination of teamwork and adventure. God has used these things to affirm me as a man and draw me closer to his heart. God loves to meet us in creation, come and see for yourself!

Landon Gould

Hello there, I'm Landon! Guiding the progress of others has quickly become one of my passions in life. Canoeing can facilitate growth and communication. In my experience, it puts me into a position where I have to make critical decisions on the spot, or be thrown into the cold water with my partner (something that I hope you learn to love as much as I have). Young men need to be able to take charge of their life and fathers need to be able to support their sons as they do so. I believe canoeing opens up the door to do just that.
