A Verse That Changed My Life

Philippines 3:7-8 I once thought these things were valuable, but now I consider them worthless because of what Christ has done. 8 Yes, everything else is worthless when compared with the infinite value of knowing Christ Jesus my Lord. For his sake I have discarded everything else, counting it all as garbage, so that I could gain Christ.

Study Guide

As you consider how this verse might be applied to your life, here are a few questions to get you started and might help identify anything that needs to be filtered through this verse.

What are some things that you feel are important in your life?

What are the most important relationships in your life?

What circumstances are most concerning to you at this time? IF any.

What unfulfilled hopes and dreams are forefront in your heart?

Is there anything that is just super annoying for you right now?

Take a moment to lay all of this before the Lord and ask if any of these things, people or circumstances have taken the number one place of importance? Do they consume your thoughts? Do you talk about it often? Do you brag about certain accomplishments? Do you complain about the same thing over and over? If yes to any of those – you might need some readjusting to do.

Take some time to journal or talk with a mentor/friend about this and the change you want to make and if there is forgiveness to process and step into.

Try praying through this verse and insert your 'circumstance' into it. And let it go, allowing Christ to be the centre of your life in all things, at all times.

I once thought _____ was valuable, but now I consider them/it worthless because of what Christ has done. Yes, everything else is worthless when compared with the infinite value of knowing Christ Jesus my Lord. For his sake I have discarded _____, counting it all as garbage, so that I could gain Christ and become one with him..
