

March 29, 2024 – Good Friday

Why is night called good? That's a great question that can be answered with one word. Join us tonight to find out what that word is! A worship service designed for ALL ages, we will be led by some of our 3rd-5th graders as they portray the story of this night on a screen using shadows. It will truly be a night to remember.

Scripture:

Gospel of Mark

Questions:

- What struck you the most tonight?
- We often come to Good Friday with shame on our hearts - but what if you looked at this night as a night of true, pure love. Does this change your feelings about the night?
- We often try to skip through the pain of Good Friday fast, because it makes us feel uncomfortable. Tonight, let yourself sit with the immense gift the pain of this day brings for you.

Reading for the Week:
