OPERATING PRINCIPLE

To come alongside existing ministry to Aboriginal peoples, cultural language groups and others across Canada and complement the effort in teaching and training indigenous leadership for ministry.

ABA recognizes that all believers are called to serve, not just through pastoral preparation but also as laypersons. The Borean School of the Bible & School of Evangelism and Discipleship offer various discipleship development levels. Global University provides distance education through printed materials, digital copies, and online course access. With these resources, the ABA can help establish and maintain local training centers, modular classes, weekend and week-long intensives, and more nationwide. Additionally, they can assist individuals within Aboriginal and cultural communities who wish to enhance their expression of Christian ministry.
