MESSAGE

As parents, we provide different attributes for our kids. As a Christian, it is important for fathers to take an active role in their kids' lives. They are the source of Christian values and outlook on the world of man. We will in turn attribute our relation with our dads to God the Father.

To have the best possible future in Christ and life... parents, especially fathers, must teach about godliness through their lives, words, and deeds. Our sons and daughters will have a greater rate of successful relationships and personal peace.
