Meditation & Prayer

Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy Kingdom come, thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors. And lead us not into temptation but deliver us from evil: For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever. Amen.

More About Jesus (Hymn 564)

Readings from the Scriptures...

Proverbs 20: 26-30

V. 26 For the health of his kingdom, a wise king must root out evildoers. Drives the wheel over them is not meant literally but is an agricultural image using the picture of a heavy cart being drawn over the grain to separate the wheat from the chaff.

V. 27 God's judgment is thus more fair and more effective.

V. 28 This verse balances what is said in v. 26. Although a king must separate out and punish evildoers, the real security of his throne is in steadfast love and faithfulness. This may refer to the king's character, but more likely it refers to God's steadfast love and faithfulness, which was the foundation of the Davidic dynasty (1 Kings 3:6; 8:23; Ps. 89:28).

V. 29 Gray hair (cf. 16:31) is a concrete example of a general truth: many of the physical evidences of old age have a dignity and splendor of their own, often representing experience, maturity, wisdom, and holiness.

30 Corporal punishment, when appropriate, is effective (13:24; 22:15; 23:14). ~ (Adapted from ESV Study Bible & HCSB)

Holy, Acceptable unto God

"We have here the death of Christ magnified by the wonders that attended it, and his death explained by the words with which he breathed out his soul. He was willing to offer himself. Let us seek to glorify God by true repentance and conversion; by protesting against those who crucify the Savior; by a sober, righteous, and godly life; and by employing our talents in the service of Him who died for us and rose again." Luke 23: 44-49
