Hello Anna Walter

Appreciating World Outreach Ministries!

Jason Peebles (founder of World Outreach Ministries), Michael, and Lori

Lori and I were delighted to visit our faithful home office, World Outreach Ministries, in person, last week. We met Jason Peebles for the first time in 2007 by Internet and telephone. We began using World Outreach Ministries as our home office for processing our donations in January, 2008. They are dedicated to serving missionaries, and they do so with excellence and efficiency. Their dedication to their calling and their love for the missionaries they serve is evidenced both in their joy and their attention to detail. We had a great time of fellowship with Jason and his daughter, Joanna, last week. Jason, Joanna, and all of the WOM staff are wonderful Christians who not only do their administrative tasks, but pray for us. You can read about them and their work at WorldOutreach.org.

Our family in Papua New Guinea. This picture appeared in our first prayer letter announcing that we were now using World Outreach Ministries as our home office. Left to right: Ben, Nate, Lori, Evan, and Michael. A pet cuscus is looking over Ben's head.

Please Keep Praying

Thank God for:

- We now have over 476 million deliveries in 1,460 Bible translations on eBible.org and related sites!
- God's provision. We really appreciate all of you whom God blesses to be a financial blessing to our ministry!

Please keep praying for the following aspects of our ministry:

- Our travels. We are currently on our way to visit our son and daughter-in-law, Evan and Kaylee.

- Web site upgrades for eBible.org, Solomons.Bible, and Baebol.org
- Wisdom protecting our computers and servers from hacker attacks
- Bible study app development
- Bible translation consulting
- Bible translation processing for posting on eBible.org and sister sites

How can we pray for you, today?

May God bless you!
