In the Pursuit of GOD ... "The yearning to know what cannot be known, to comprehend the incomprehensible, to touch and taste the unapproachable, arises from the image of God in the nature of man. Deep calleth unto deep, and though polluted and landlocked by the mighty disaster theologians call the Fall, the soul senses its origin and longs to return to its source."

We attended the wedding of a Marine Corps Major and his bride who is an agent for Homeland Security. We are also looking forward to doing the wedding ceremony for a Private First Class in June, who will be coming home from Okinawa to wed his high school sweetheart. He will be returning to Japan shortly after the honeymoon. We bought two Bibles to present to the couple during the service. We have had several funerals, others scheduled, with over 200 in attendance at our most recent service. We did a memorial service for a Medal of Honor recipient, Lt. General Lawrence Nicholson was present, and we have been invited once again to speak at the Gold Star Mothers and Family Day. We were involved with the Marine Roses Program, and have a host of doctor appointments scheduled. Our firstborn grandson recently graduated from the University of Tennessee, School of Engineering, and will be entering the PhD program in the fall. Congratulations Ethan! Recently, we submitted a ... See the Missionary board in the old church, www.milecreekbc or contact Emmett for the full letter.
