As you reflect, either individually or with a group, what qualities in Matthew 5:3-10 are most difficult for you? Which of these verses is the most frightening to embody? How might living in the ways of verses 3-10 cause disciples of Jesus to be “set apart” within the world?</li> <li>2. Spend some time in serious reflection over verses 10-13. Talk about persecution, from both angles. How do we persecute and revile one another, even as brothers and sisters in Christ? Then, in what ways is the Church persecuted and reviled by those outside? What is the hope in persecution?</li> <li>3. Considering the effect of salt. How might we live in a way that directs or draws others towards God? What patterns or good habits might characterize the life of a person or community who is living in a way that draws out the “God flavors” in the world? (vs. 13)</li> <li>4. Breaking down verses 14-16, discuss the power and effect of light. How does the Church reflect the light of Jesus in the world? And in what ways might the lives of individual disciples of Jesus reflect his image in the world?</li> <li>5. In verse 16, Jesus identifies two results that follow as his disciples let their lights shine before others.
