Seasons Change, God Doesn't

Then the Lord said in His heart, "I will never again curse the ground for man's sake, although the imagination of man's heart is evil from his youth; nor will I again destroy every living thing as I have done. While the earth remains, seedtime and harvest, cold and heat, winter and summer, and day and night shall not cease."

Genesis 8:21-22 NKJV

We associate Fall with change, with the end of warm weather and the beginning of colder days. But the changeable nature of the seasons is, itself, a sign of God's unchanging character. When we think of God's promise after the great flood, we think of rainbows, but the proof of His steadfastness is all around us, regardless of how much things change. God promised that, despite humanity's tendencies to go off track and wander away from Him and the plans He has for us, He will never give up on us. His steadfast love never ceases. His mercies are new every morning. He will always seek the lost lamb, always wait for the prodigal child, always be faithful and just to forgive when we confess our sins. He will never leave us or forsake us. So, while we prepare for shorter days and cooler weather, we can live in the light and the warmth of the neverending love of Jesus.
