God is Good

In our daily lives, we often use the word "good" to describe many things, good food, good weather, good news. But when Scripture declares that "God is good," it speaks of something far deeper and more profound than our everyday understanding of goodness.

God's goodness is not merely an attribute He possesses; it is fundamental to His very nature. James reminds us that "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and comes down from the Father of lights, with whom there is no variation or shadow of turning" (James 1:17). God's goodness is constant, unchanging, and perfect.

Unlike human goodness, which can be inconsistent and flawed, God's goodness flows from His perfect character. He cannot be anything other than good because goodness is woven into the fabric of who He is. We can see God's goodness displayed throughout Scripture and in our lives.

God's goodness can be seen in creation. God looked at His creation and declared it "very good" (Genesis 1:31). The beauty, order, and provision we see in nature reflect His good character.

God's goodness in our redemption. "But God demonstrates His own love toward us, in that while we were still sinners, Christ died for us" (Romans 5:8). The ultimate expression of God's goodness is found in the cross.

God's goodness can be seen in our daily provisions. Jesus taught us that our heavenly Father knows our needs and provides for us (Matthew 6:26-32). Even our daily bread is evidence of His goodness.

When life's circumstances challenge our faith, we can anchor our souls in this eternal truth: God is good. His goodness is not dependent on our circumstances, our understanding, or our feelings. It is rooted in His unchanging character and demonstrated supremely in Christ Jesus.

Let us join the psalmist in declaring, "Oh, give thanks to the Lord, for He is good! For His mercy endures forever" (Psalm 107:1).
