Weaver's Writings:

My Identity in Christ

Who am I? In a world that constantly tries to define us by our accomplishments, possessions, or failures, Christians must anchor their identity in something far greater. Our worth and purpose are not rooted in what we do, but in who we belong to.

When we obeyed the gospel, we were united with Christ in baptism (Romans 6:3–4). In that moment, we were no longer defined by our past sins or failures. Paul reminds us, "If anyone is in Christ, he is a new creation. The old has passed away; behold, the new has come" (2 Corinthians 5:17). Our identity was completely transformed; we became children of God (Galatians 3:26–27).

The fact that we have become children of God is perhaps the most beautiful aspect of our identity in Christ. John writes, "Behold what manner of love the Father has bestowed on us, that we should be called children of God!" (1 John 3:1). Through faith and baptism, we are adopted into God's family, with all the privileges and responsibilities that relationship entails.

The New Testament consistently refers to Christians as "saints", not because we are sinless, but because we are set apart for God's purpose (1 Corinthians 1:2). We are also a "royal priesthood, a holy nation, His own special people" (1 Peter 2:9), called to proclaim God's excellencies to the world.

Understanding our identity in Christ should transform how we live. We are:

Forgiven (Ephesians 1:7) – freed from guilt and shame
Justified (Romans 5:1) – declared righteous before God
Redeemed (Colossians 1:14) – purchased at the precious price of Christ's blood
His workmanship (Ephesians 2:10) – created for good works

So, remind yourself daily of this simple truth. You are not defined by your past. You are not defined by what others think of you. You are defined by your relationship with Jesus Christ. That is your identity.
