- God tells Samuel that “man looks at the outward appearance, but Lord looks at the heart.” How does this challenge the way we evaluate people today– in leadership, in our community, or even in church settings?
- What does Samuel's obedience, despite fear, teach us about trusting God's instructions when they put us in difficult situations?
- What role does the Holy Spirit play in equipping us for God's purposes today, and how can we remain aware of that presence?
- The people expected someone like Saul– tall, impressive, and strong. How can we learn to recognize and affirm God's choices in people or situations, even when they don't match our expectations?
- How has God used experiences from your past to help you minister to people in the present?
