With the fourth beast the _____ is a dead giveaway that we’re talking about _____.

While the first three empires lasted about 200 years, the Roman Empire went on for nearly 1,500 years.

“It had ten horns” and this would represent the Roman Empire.

Remember Rome is not yet done; it will be revived as a ten-kingdom monarchy.

Remember the first point; the Kingdom of Christ follows the final form of the final kingdom of the nations.

Point number two, it follows the final _____ of the kingdom of the nations.

A third point –the Kingdom of Christ follows the final _____ of the final form of the final Kingdom.

Everything in history is moving toward the cataclysmic event of the Kingdom of Christ.

There's going to come a moment of fury, a moment of divine revelation, a moment of utter devastation when Christ returns.

We do not mildly, quietly, subtly move to the Kingdom; it is a holocaust of fiery judgment.

Roman law required that a will or a testament be sealed seven times so that it could not be broken.

The Father gave to the Son the right to _____.

Man's day is ended in an incredible holocaust which takes the life of far and away the vast majority of the earth.

There are 660 general prophecies in the Bible; 333 of them are about Christ – or about half of them. Of the 333 that are about Christ, 109 were fulfilled in His first coming, and 224 are yet to be fulfilled in His second coming.

The Lord Himself personally referred to His return 21 times. And over 50 times we are told to be ready for it.

The climax of human history is the return of Christ.
