

IDENTITY

Welcome to “Identity” – a space created for young adults who are navigating one of the most important questions of their lives: who am I? In a world that constantly defines worth by appearance, achievement, popularity, or status, discovering your true identity in Christ can feel not only difficult, but countercultural. As society increasingly pushes away from biblical truth, standing firm in who God says you are requires boldness, clarity, and community. This conference is designed to help you uncover your God-given identity first – before titles, relationships, or career paths – and to explore how that identity impacts every decision you make, from choosing a career or a partner, to managing money and living out your purpose with confidence and faith. So now tell me, who are you?
