From the Rector's Desk

And when Jesus had been baptized, just as he came up from the water, suddenly the heavens were opened to him and he saw God's Spirit descending like a dove and alighting on him"(Matthew 3:16) This is a powerful moment, because Jesus' baptism marks the beginning of his public ministry, and it's rich with symbolism for us today. The heavens opening means God's presence is revealed, and the divine connection is made clear. For us, it's a reminder that our baptism connects us to God's presence and power. The Spirit descending like a dove, also means that the Holy Spirit's presence is tangible, symbolizing peace, purity, and empowerment. As believers Christ, we're also recipients of the Holy Spirit's empowerment (cf. Acts 2:38). The alighting on Jesus of the Spirit's presence is not just a moment, but a dwelling. We, too, are temples of the Holy Spirit (cf.1 Corinthians 6:19).

For us as believers being baptized with Christ means that:

- Identification with Jesus: Baptism symbolizes our union with Christ's death, burial, and resurrection (Romans 6:3-4).
- New life and empowerment: The Spirit's presence empowers us for ministry, just as it did for Jesus.
- Divine affirmation: God's presence and Spirit confirm our identity as beloved children (Matthew 3:17).

Thus as we begin the new year, here is another reminder for us to reaffirm our Baptismal Covenant (BAS 158-159) with these main strategies as Christ followers:

- Promise to believe and affirm our faith in God as we confess our faith in the Apostles' Creed.
- Promise to continue in the apostolic teaching and fellowship, in the breaking of bread, and in the prayers.
- Promise to resist evil: With a commitment to persevere in resisting evil and to repent when falling into sin.
- Promise to proclaim the gospel: A vow to proclaim the Good News of God in Christ by word and to lead by Godly example.
- Promise to serve Christ: A commitment to seek and serve Christ in all persons, loving one's neighbour as oneself.
- Promise to strive for justice and peace: A pledge to strive for justice and peace among all people and to respect the dignity of every human being.
- Promise to safeguard creation: As custodians of God's creation promising to strive to safeguard the integrity of creation and sustain and renew the life of the earth.

"I will with God's help."

Thanks be to God. Amen.

Epiphany blessings,

The Reverend Wilson Akinwal
