ENGAGE

A Journey through Luke

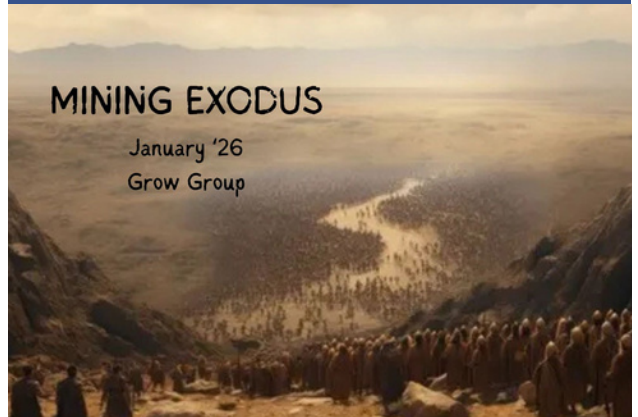

FROM THE PASTORS

Our "Main Theme" of the year is Engage. Engagement comes in many different forms and is possible in many different ways. Most notable, our God wants to engage with us on a daily basis, and we need to be engaged with one another. There is no set way this looks, but is needed in every aspect of our lives.

Happy New Year! A new year offers new chances for growth. If you haven't heard, the staff has been praying about the theme ENGAGE.

Because we live such independent and compartmentalized lives, engagement is somewhat of a challenge. However, as followers of Christ we're called to be different from the world.

First of all, to ENGAGE entails understanding a God who wants a relationship with humanity. That's amazing! Secondly, God desires us to have a relationship with one another. In other words, we are created for community. It was never God's intent for man to be alone. Adam was given Eve as a helpmate. Moses was gifted with Aaron. And the Church was called to continue to meet together in Hebrews. You get the idea!

All of this to say, my hope is that you will pray about how you can engage in greater ways this year. How will you engage with God? Corporate worship and study? Personal Bible study? Through a Grow Group? A stronger prayer life? How about engaging with others? Will you move beyond the "How's the weather?" conversations and get to know someone? How will you let others know you? Let's be intentional this year. Lets ENGAGE!

From Matthew

As we come into this new year I want to connect with as many families as possible, and find how to serve and engage with them. I've been studying a lot in Acts chapter 2 this year and seeing how the early church met day in and day out to do life together in every way, how they connected with God, and I want to work to do the same with the church here. Ball games, concerts, driving school, and starting an after school ministry to name a few ways this engagement might happen. But I and the rest of the staff need your help doing this; letting us know how best to engage with you.

Happy New Year! This month in children's ministry we will continue to look at God's Big Story throughout the bible. This month we will be focusing on things that can help us grow our friendship with God! It's a Game Plan to help the kids get stronger in their faith everyday and to know God better- talking about God, praying to God, hearing from God, and living for God.
