

Good News from Grace

“From dust you were created, to dust you shall return.”

This is the theme of Ash Wednesday. It is a reminder that we were created, that we were created from the ground, from basic material, and that one day, we will die and be reunited with that from which we were created. It doesn't mention anything about our spirit, or our salvation, or heaven, or hell. It just tells us, you were created from nature, and you will return to nature. For me, there is something comforting in the fact that our lives truly are interconnected with all that exists and that has existed. That we aren't more special because we are human, but that all of creation is formed, exists and dies from the same building blocks, the same Spirit. Its humbling to know that the building blocks that made our ancestors, that made the trees, that made the animals, the air, the sea, the cosmos, are no different than the building blocks that make us. Ash Wednesday reminds us that we are borrowing this life of ours, and that it isn't ours to own. That this experience that we call life, is but a rental agreement with God and the rest of creation. All things in this world are just trying to extend their stay in this apartment we call life, as long as we possibly can. The good news is that Ash Wednesday is not the end of the story, it is the beginning of the process. The process to recognizing that we do not have control over our lives, and that what we have is not ours to own, but ours to borrow and steward. Ash Wednesday reminds us that we only have so much time to rent out this life of ours, and asks us to think about how we plan to use this time that we have. Lent then guides us to see that the true purpose of this life that we are given, is to learn how to follow the ways of the Lord. To learn how to see God in all that was, is and ever will be. To learn to see the divinity, not only in all of humanity, but all of creation. To recognize that the dust that makes up you and me is the same dust that makes up animals, trees, rocks and the cosmos. Lent gives us the perspective of creation vs creator. Finally, Easter reminds us that the Creator loves the creation. We are called to “know our place” in creation, not in a derogatory sense, but in a sense of surrender to the one who actually is in control, God. More importantly, it reminds us that if God truly is in control, than when God says that we are loved, and welcomed into the eternal kingdom, then we can take that seriously and believe it. Heaven isn't a fairytale, it is the spiritual reality that these dust bodies of ours will perish, but the spirits that reside in them will live on forever in the presence and love of the one who created them. May your lenten journeys be ones of discovery and rediscovery of who you are and whose you are.

Grace and Peace,

Pastor Chad

Pastor Chad's Lenten Devotional

For Pastor Chad's Lenten Devotional this year, he will be reading: Crux: Daily Lenten Meditations. It is a Catholic lenten meditation devotional, so there will be some things that us Lutherans don't agree with. But on the whole, I believe it will help center us in Christ and remind us to put our faith in Jesus, and not in ourselves. According to Ascension Press, "You will read through the entirety of the Gospel of Mark, reflecting on your identity as God's beloved child, and you'll respond through prayer and practical action." If you would like to follow along with Pastor Chad this coming Lent, let the office know that you would like a copy. Copies are $8 each and should be requested by February 8. Books will be available before Ash Wednesday, February 18th. Make checks payable to Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church.

Ash Wednesday - February 18th at 7:00pm

Ash Wednesday kicks off Lent. During this service we apply ashes to each other's foreheads in the sign of the cross stating, from dust you were created, to dust you shall return. Ash Wednesday reminds us that life is not forever. It reminds us that just like Jesus, we too will die. But it also reminds us, through the sign of the cross, that we do not die alone. That we die with Jesus, which means, we will also rise like Jesus. The old creation must die, for the new creation to live.

Table of Duties: The Forgotten Stewardship Tool

Luther's Small Catechism is a magnificent tool. Joined with a well-used copy of the Holy Scriptures and an orthodox hymnal, and the Christian is well equipped to live a life of faithfulness to the Lord and service to the neighbor. First in German and now in English and just about any language known to man, this handy masterpiece has introduced generations of people to the central doctrine of justification by grace, through faith, on account of Jesus Christ. The Six Chief Parts have proven to be a faithful framework for a clear confession of the truth of the Gospel for nearly five hundred years!

But more than a textbook, the Small Catechism also serves well as a handbook for Christian living. As a part of its treasure, there is an element that teaches an extraordinarily strong message of stewardship. That hidden treasure that needs to be rediscovered is called the Table of Duties.

The Table of Duties is really nothing more than a categorized gathering of Bible verses. These verses are set apart for "various holy orders and positions, admonishing them about their duties and responsibilities." Addressing pastors and people, government and citizens, husbands, wives, children, youth, workers and so many more, it very clearly lays out what faithful stewardship looks like. Even better, these assembled passages teach one important truth: we are stewards of one another!

The Table is much more than a "how-to" tool; it also lays out the interconnectedness that exists within the body of Christ. Pastors are described by what they are to be as stewards of the Word. 1 Timothy 3 highlights the characteristics of a faithful pastor. Even more, Titus 1 highlights the need for the pastor to be faithful for the sake of those under his care.

Those who hear the faithful preaching of the pastor are stewards of the pastor as well. 1 Corinthians 9 talks about the need for the people to support the livelihood of the pastor. Galatians 6 talks about how the hearers share in the good things that the pastor teaches. 1 Timothy 6 talks about the honor that is owed to the pastor, not because of WHO he is, but rather WHAT he is teaching! Hebrews 13 shows the impact of this stewardship on the pastor, that they perform their duties with joy. Joyful pastors and people are always going to be better stewards of the Gospel!

Outside the church this interdependent stewardship is on display as well. Romans 13 highlights the respect necessary for the governing authorities. As citizens, the faithful steward is called to pay taxes (Matthew 22), pray for their leaders (1 Timothy 2) and that they should be ready to serve in the civil realm (Titus 3), because they are in these positions by God's direction (1 Peter 2).

These steward duties are in the home too! 1 Peter 3 and Colossians 3 shape the husband steward. Ephesians 5 and 1 Peter 3 shape the wife steward. Ephesians 6 form parental stewards and child stewards.

The Table of Duties is a wonderful place for the individual steward to learn how much our stewardship is more than just a "me and Jesus thing!" In fact, it ends with these words: "Let each his lesson learn with care, and all the household well share fare." This is interdependent stewardship on clear display. As each learns stewardship in this way, the more faithful we will be as a family, congregations, communities and the church at large.

2026 Stewardship Campaign Results

The Finance and Stewardship Ministry thanks the congregation for their support of the 2026 Stewardship Pledge Campaign. Our Stewardship campaign, entitled "Rooted in Faith, Growing in Grace" is formally concluded.

As of January we received 94 pledges for an amount of $261,158.40. This represents 11 more pledges than last year, 18 more than 2024, and 33 more than 2023. The amount pledged is $31,559 more than last year. The trend is certainly positive and reflects most positively on us as a congregation.

Although the campaign is formally concluded, it is never too late to pledge. Pledge forms are available in the narthex or you may contact the church office for a form. Again, the Finance and Stewardship Ministry thanks you for your support of Grace's mission in the community and the world.

Let's be good stewards of our prayer list. If someone has healed, or if someone has moved on to eternal life, please let the church office know. Names will automatically be moved to the ongoing prayers after a month. They will be removed from the ongoing prayers after another month unless you notify us.

The pastoral staff wishes to lift up this special group of members on a regular basis during the prayers. Each week a group of homebound members will be included in the “out loud” prayers.

Prayer List Additions

Everyone appreciates prayer, but not everyone wishes to be added to the “out loud” prayers. If you are aware of a member of Grace who could benefit from being added to the prayers, please let Pastor Chad know. Grace Book Club - February 23, 2026

The book club will be reading "The Correspondent" by Virginia Evans.

"Imagine, the letters one has sent out into the world, the letters received back in turn, are like the pieces of a magnificent puzzle. . . . Isn't there something wonderful in that, to think that a story of one's life is preserved in some way, that this very letter may one day mean something, even if it is a very small thing, to someone?"

Filled with knowledge that only comes from a life fully lived, The Correspondent is a gem of a novel about the power of finding solace in literature and connection with people we might never meet in person. It is about the hubris of youth and the wisdom of old age, and the mistakes and acts of kindness that occur during a lifetime.

Sybil Van Antwerp has throughout her life used letters to make sense of the world and her place in it. Most mornings, around half past ten, Sybil sits down to write letters—to her brother, to her best friend, to the president of the university who will not allow her to audit a class she desperately wants to take, to Joan Didion and Larry McMurtry to tell them what she thinks of their latest books, and to one person to whom she writes often yet never sends the letter.

Sybil expects her world to go on as it always has—a mother, grandmother, wife, divorcee, distinguished lawyer, she has lived a very full life. But when letters from someone in her past force her to examine one of the most painful periods of her life, she realizes that the letter she has been writing over the years needs to be read and that she cannot move forward until she finds it in her heart to offer forgiveness.

Sybil Van Antwerp's life of letters might be "a very small thing," but she also might be one of the most memorable characters you will ever read.

"The Correspondent is this year's breakout novel no one saw coming."—The Wall Street Journal
