Series: The Prayer that Shapes Us

Sermon: Who does this Belong to?

Read Matthew 6 (Focus on Matthew 6:13b)

Questions:

1. Matthew 13:6b, known as the doxology, reads “For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever. Amen.” (KJV) and is found as a footnote in most translations. When we pray this doxology, how does it challenge us?
2. In the beatitudes (Matthew 5:3, 10) it says that the Kingdom of Heaven belongs to the poor and those who pursue righteousness. What does it mean that it is theirs?
3. The doxology declares that the Kingdom is God’s. What does it mean that it's His?
4. How can it be both ‘theirs’ and ‘His’?
5. What does “Kingdom, Power, and Glory” mean given the context of the sermon on the Mount?
6. What do you think might happen if this prayer was answered in your life?
