

He Will Wake You Up

John 11:11

Lazarus has died and Jesus' mission is to wake him up, for he said that he was asleep. Sometimes we find ourselves in this same situation, not physically dead, but spiritually. Jesus has to wake us up, because we are asleep at the wheel, and he has to grab the wheel.

When there are serious decisions to be made we need Him. We need him to reveal himself to us on a deeper level. We ask ourselves, "how do we get a deeper level of faith?" Some say pray and give, but that is not enough. Jesus will give you what you need as he opens you up to a new experience of the full range of things with him. He desires to reveal himself to you. He invites you to experience things you never thought were possible.

It may be still early in our journey and we fall apart because we do not have great faith. We have to trust Jesus because there is nothing or no one who can stop him. Jesus was full of courage, but the disciples were afraid.

When he raises Lazarus from the dead, he makes people believers. His glory is on display. The disciples believe and so do the witnesses.

Our problem is we overthink everything. We shy away from believing that the impossible can be possible. We exert negative energy. Rather than overthink things, we should over-believe that God will make it happen. We are more than conquerors. We are fearfully and wonderfully made. We can do all things through Christ Jesus who strengthens us.

Lazarus was raised from the dead. Imagine his testimony. His sisters were mad at Jesus because Lazarus died and the disciples see the power of Jesus, for he has all power.

For us we should not overthink the what ifs, wherefores, and howevers, but hold on to our ability to trust and believe in Him.
