"A family of believers seeking to grow spiritually while sharing Jesus and serving others."

Divine Titles of Jesus

by Jack Cottrell

Several of the titles ascribed to Jesus in the New Testament imply His deity. The most significant is "Lord," which is used almost 500 times. In most manuscripts of the Septuagint (the Greek Old Testament), "Lord" is the word which appears in place of Yahweh, the divine name itself, over 6,000 times.

Thus, any Jew who knew his Greek O.T. would have associated this title immediately with the one true God. This is certainly the case with the Apostle Paul and other N.T. writers. When the early Christians confessed "Jesus is Lord" (Rom. 10:9), they were confessing belief in Christ's deity (that Jesus is God).

Another title with divine content is "Son of God." In pagan circles this was a common title for deities, but again the most significant factor is the way the Jews themselves understood this expression. On two occasions when Jesus referred to God as His Father, the Jews accused Him of blasphemy and wanted to kill Him, because He "was calling God His own Father, making Himself equal with God" (John 5:18; 10:33,36).

In neither case did Jesus deny His identity as Son of God, nor did He object to equating this with a claim to deity. At His trial He was asked, "Are You the Son of God, then?" His answer was affirmative (Luke 22:70). Again He was accused of blasphemy and thought worthy of death (John 19:7). It is apparent from incidents such as these that Jesus' reference to Himself as the Son of God was taken to be a claim to deity. Such was the content of this title.

Jesus is Lord; Jesus is the Son of God. Each of these titles in its own way testifies to the divine nature of Jesus Christ.

1 John 4:9-10,14-15, "By this the love of God was manifested in us, that God has sent His only begotten Son into the world so that we might live through Him. God loved us and sent His Son to be the propitiation for our sins. We have seen and testify that the Father has sent the Son to be the Savior of the world. Whoever confesses that Jesus is the Son of God, God abides in him, and he in God."
