Fearfully & Wonderfully Made

Honoring God with your mind and body as His temple

We're excited to announce MBC's upcoming family event Fearfully and Wonderfully Made on Saturday, May 2, from 1-3 pm at our 18 & 8th facility (1802 8th St., Monroe).

This special gathering will focus on honoring God through our minds and bodies. The program will begin with a general presentation on the biblical and scientific foundation the role our faith plays in physical and mental wellbeing. Following these presentations, there will be breakout sessions as well as an opportunity for health screening.

We invite you to contribute your talents to make this event a success. We are seeking volunteers, not just those with health-care expertise, to lead discussions. We would like to offer practical topics on physical and mental wellbeing as well as related topics such as demystifying Medicare, estate planning, managing screen time for children, fostering healthy relations with teens, or other practical life skills that would mesh with our program. Additional areas of need include general support, hospitality, communication, outreach, and logistical assistance.

This event is an opportunity for discipleship, allowing our collective Christian joy to shine brightly as we generously share our time and talents.

If you are interested in volunteering, leading a small group topic of your choice, or simply wish to learn more about how you can participate, please reach out to any member of the planning group.

Pipeline: Marriage Class

The Marriage Ministry is celebrating National Marriage week (Feb. 7-14) and God's perfect plan for marriage.

We are currently hosting discussions about many different aspects of marriage in the 9 am Pipeline class such as how God created men and women uniquely different, the challenges this creates, and how God designed husbands and wives to complete one another. It doesn't come without challenges, but it's worth our effort! All married couples, engaged couples, or individuals wanting to be married are welcome and encouraged to attend! We all can all share and learn from each other. Come join us!
