Medical Missionary Amazon River Basin, Brazil

Dear Friends and supporters,

Thank you for the care and kindness you showed during the holiday season! Your love, messages, and prayers were such an encouragement to my heart.

I'm grateful to share that I was able to move back to the States in early December as planned for my furlough in order to complete my nurse practitioner school hours. Thank you so much for praying for this transition—the trip went very smoothly, and I truly felt covered by your prayers every step of the way.

The Lord even gave a special opportunity during the flight. I was able to talk for quite a while with a sweet Brazilian couple sitting next to me, Tiago and Bianca. They were very friendly and curious about why I had been in Brazil and how I knew Portuguese. They enjoyed practicing their English as I practiced my Portuguese. I learned that they are in the process of immigrating to Florida and are facing many challenges with the cost and logistics of documentation and moving. Tiago shared that he has been experiencing a lot of anxiety and depression over the transition. Although he has a church background, it didn't sound like he had made a personal profession of faith and he felt his "works" were lacking when it came to Salvation. Through a mix of English and Portuguese, I was able to share my testimony and the Gospel with him. While he didn't pray at that moment, he accepted several Portuguese Gospel tracts I had brought and seemed very interested and thoughtful the rest of the flight. It was a special gift from the Lord—both to use some of my Portuguese and to share Christ with a Brazilian, a nationality I've come to love so dearly.

Please continue to pray as I work through several school-related challenges that have recently arisen connected to my clinical hours. I would also appreciate prayer as I'm able to help with planning and organizational projects for the upcoming summer medical missions trips. I am excited to see how God works through these upcoming trips!

Thank you, as always, for your ongoing love, support, and prayers. I'm so grateful to be partnered together with you all!

Best,

Sarah Goodman
