From Hearing God's Word to Living God's Will

In Romans 10:17, the apostle Paul reminds us, "So faith comes from hearing, and hearing through the word of Christ." This beautiful verse reveals the pathway by which faith enters the human heart. God has established that His Word be the instrument through which souls are brought to faith. Every time the Scriptures are read publicly, every time a sermon is preached, every time a brother or sister shares the good news with another, there is potential. The seed is planted, and God gives the increase.

Yet there is a danger that has plagued the people of God throughout every generation, the temptation to be content with hearing alone. James addresses this very concern when he writes, "But be doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving yourselves" (James 1:22). Notice the strong warning given here. The one who hears without doing is not merely missing out on blessings or falling short of potential, they are deceiving themselves. This self-deception is perhaps the most dangerous spiritual condition imaginable, because the one who is deceived does not realize they are in peril. They may believe all is well with their soul while their spiritual house rests on sand rather than rock.

What distinguishes the faithful hearer from the self-deceived? "But the one who looks into the perfect law, the law of liberty, and perseveres, being no hearer who forgets but a doer who acts, he will be blessed in his doing" (James 1:25). Notice the progression: looking into the law, persevering in it, and then doing what it says. The blessing comes not merely from hearing or even from understanding, but from the active obedience that flows from a heart transformed by the truth. This is the path from hearing to living, from receiving the Word to living it in our daily walk.

The progression from hearing God's Word to living God's will is the essence of the Christian life. We hear, we believe, we obey, and we are blessed. This is not a one-time event but an ongoing cycle that continues throughout our pilgrimage on this earth. Each time we open the Scriptures, we should approach with hearts ready not only to receive but to respond. The Ethiopian eunuch asked Philip, "See, here is water! What prevents me from being baptized?" (Acts 8:36). He heard the gospel, believed it, and immediately sought to act upon it. May we have that same eager spirit, that same readiness to translate hearing into doing.
