April 2026 - Students gather at a North Carolina high school to hear Alex McFarland Speak about "Anxiety"

Dear Friend,

You don’t have to look very far to recognize the heavy burden many young people are carrying today. Troubling headlines, social pressure, family struggles, and quiet doubts leave many students feeling overwhelmed and unsure where to turn.

Some wonder if God truly sees their mental and emotional pain. Others hesitate to speak up, fearing that anxiety or discouragement might be interpreted as a failure of faith.

At Equip Camps, we are intentional about reminding students that the Bible never ignores the reality of suffering—and it never leaves us without hope. Jesus spoke plainly when He said, “In the world you will have tribulation; but be of good cheer, I have overcome the world” (John 16:33, NKJV).

We walk through Scripture that testifies to God’s faithfulness in hard times, affirms His nearness, and points unshakably to the hope of the cross and the empty tomb. Students learn practical, biblical ways to bring their worries before the Lord in prayer, to draw strength from Christian community, and to renew their minds with the truth of God’s Word.

Our aim is not to offer quick fixes or shallow answers. Our goal is to anchor students in the person of Jesus Christ and what He has accomplished—truth that holds steady even in anxious times.

When you Stand with Students, you help to:

- Make camp accessible to students who are struggling and may otherwise stay home
- Support clear, biblical teaching that connects the Gospel to real emotional and spiritual needs

- Create an environment where young people can be honest, encouraged, and strengthened in Christ

Would you prayerfully consider making a gift today to help an anxious student hear (and grasp) the life-changing hope of the Gospel this year?
