Conversation With My Soul (Psalm 42:5)

By John Watt

Dwell not, O soul, on yesterday,
on sorrows past and gone -
the sketch you drew so long ago,
today may be redrawn.
Dwell not upon tomorrow's wars,
nor borrow from their pain -
that energy you need today
let not your worries drain.

To read more of this psalm, please pick up a copy of the full Psalm from the welcome table.

Global Missions

Our June Missionaries of the month are Mark and Dayna Blair who serve in Hawaii and JoAnn Gault who serves with Wycliffe Bible Translators in San Diego.

Kapa'au, Hawaii–Mark Blair has over 40 years of ministry experience all across the globe. From Uganda to China, now to the island of Hawaii, Mark currently pastors Kalahikiola Congregational Church in Kapa'au, Hawaii. Mark and Dayna are also involved in RECLAIM– a ministry organization that partners with local communities throughout the world to work towards human flourishing. The heart of RECLAIM is a divine invitation to reclaim God's design for dignity, hope, and life in every person, every community, and every corner of the world. RECLAIM promotes and provides disability services, agriculture training, and education. They also work to end human trafficking around the world. San Diego– JoAnn Gault is finishing her 50+ year career with Wycliffe. She is currently working part time at her home in San Diego. She is the final consultant for a New Testament translation by a colleague in Sama–a language spoken in Southeast Asia. She is currently working through the Gospels. Please pray that God would lead her to the passages that may need another look, and wisdom for good suggestions for improvement or correction. Please also pray for her co-translator, "Light," and her family who are not yet believers. May the work of translation lead to true understanding and salvation. (joann_gault@sil.org)
