.. The Night Cometh When No Man Can Work ..

Dear Pastor and Friends,

May-June 2026

A comparison of how we speak to a casual friend and how we look upon those we pass-by on the street, was recently made from the pulpit. When we speak to a friend, we look them in the eye, we become aware of their responses, as we talk with them. We endeavour to make them feel, that what they say is important to ourselves. But when we compare our focus with our casual friend, with one who passes-by, we very seldom give them a second glance. As a result, we give very little thought, as to where that person will spend eternity, and even worse, our action implies, that we don't really care. We know that is not how the Lord responds to us, when we come before HIM, for he is eager to hear our prayers and praises, which is evidence of HIS love to ourselves. We know that the world knows of God's love for them, via our responses to them. Perhaps the world will be more aware of God's love for them, if we look them in the eye and smile.

Our, 'What can God do for you', tract is going into the homes with two teams putting them out. We recently had a visitor come as a result of the tract in that home. We are looking to the Lord to bring others in to the church as well. The weather is getting warmer and we will be going into the square to speak with people on a one on one basis.

We recently had an upset in the church; the lead-deacon had adopted the false view that God is no longer going to deal with HIS chosen people, a view that we oppose. He has since resigned, declaring that we are teaching a false gospel, but he has done the right thing to resign

A bit about ourselves; God is gracious to May in that she is still able to do basic things in the home; washing dishes, making the bed, etc. There is a slight deterioration in the progress of the dementia. To compare; we had a man who attended occasionally, being diagnosed with dementia after May, but he has since passed into eternity, sadly to say, without Christ. Concerning me; I don't preach every Sunday. My balance and memory is an issue, we are working on these factors. We again ask for continued prayer for Brian, Helen, Emma, Shaw and Alicia, (recently attending).

Servants,

Dennis & May
