

Keep the Conversation Going

What is your general attitude toward politics? What place does faith play in the way we approach our politics?

Do you think Christians should engage political issues? Why or why not? What barriers do you face in becoming more politically engaged as a Christian?

How do you see politics creating unhealthy divisions in society and the church? What can disciples do in such environments?

What does it mean to seek God's Kingdom in our politics?

What might this look like when it comes to policies, politicians, and how we speak about our political convictions with others?