Obedience in Christ

Obedience in Christ—not out of obligation, but as a joyful response to God’s love and wisdom.

I love the story of Daniel in the Bible.

God blessed and guided him, and his life became a fruitful testimony for every generation. Daniel’s obedience increased his wisdom, helped his friends, and brought great favor from the king.

The very best life is the obedient life. We have no idea of the gifts in store if we’ll follow God’s instructions. You may be thinking, “I’m not Daniel—I don’t have his strength.” Well, let me urge you to remember the words of Philippians 4:13: “I can do all things through Him who strengthens me.” Believers have the power of Christ within. If we draw on it to grow more like Jesus, we can learn to be obedient to God.

When Daniel arrived in Babylon, he was probably a teenager. Required to eat food that violated God's commands, “Daniel made up his mind that he would not defile himself with the king's choice food or with the wine which he drank; so he sought permission from the commander of the officials that he might not defile himself” (Daniel 1:8).

This passage reveals the essential elements of obedience as shown by Daniel, who, like us, was learning how to honor God with his life. What are they?

First, look for God’s command. When you face a decision, ask, “What would God have me do? Is there anything in the Bible that relates to this—a command or a relevant principle?”

God’s laws protect us and help us prosper. His principles, and the stories that convey His character, show us what godliness looks like in every situation.

Second, we must make a commitment. Look at the simplicity and strength of Daniel’s decision. He made up his mind. This is a critical step; without it, we waver in our willingness, and our commitment could falter.

Settle in your heart, once and for all, that you will obey God; leave no room for questioning your conviction. Many things God requires are difficult, and we fear results like rejection or loss.

Daniel obeyed even at the risk of death. We may face many trials and challenges, but the gains from courageous obedience are immeasurable.

Third, we must have confidence in God. How did Daniel and his friends say no to a pagan king who could have killed them? They knew God, who gave them their laws, and they knew the character and laws of God were good. Through intimacy with God, we experience His love, which gives us the confidence to walk with Him.

Finally, we trust God with the consequences. The obedience of Daniel, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego could have led to sorrow and suffering. They didn't know for certain how things would work out. But they knew God would handle any problems that came from their obedience.

If we suffer loss, He will use it for good and bless us in this life or the next. Will we always obey perfectly? No. Only Jesus lived in perfect obedience to the Father.

His greatest act of submission, going to the cross on our behalf, makes it possible for us to be forgiven when we miss the mark.

Have you faltered? Confess, repent, and try again. Jesus, who settled your eternal future in heaven, will also give you the strength to get up and keep going.

My friend, rely on the power of Christ to say, “Lord Jesus, I choose to obey God and leave all the consequences to Him.” I hope you’ll make that commitment today—and receive God’s blessing for all your days to come. – From a Pastor

 Congratulations to Tyler McKenna!   We are delighted to share that Tyler McKenna, a long-time member of St. George's Church, will be one of the ordinands  Date: Saturday, September 12  Time: 3:00 p.m.  Location: Christ Church Cathedral  Please keep Tyler in your prayers and join us in celebrating this joyful occasion. Everyone is warmly invited to attend the ordination service and show their love and support as Tyler is ordained to this sacred ministry.

This Sunday will be Juliana Hollingsworth’s last Sunday with us at St. George's church as she moves to Georgia, US. We extend our heartfelt congratulations and pray that the Lord will bless, guide, and protect them as they begin this new chapter together. They will be greatly missed, and we will continue to keep them in our prayers.

 Please Note   For the month of July, the office will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.  Kindly leave us a message or email if unavailable
