“The Eternal Condition of Eternity” Rev. 21 and 22

1

In 2 Peter we get a description of the destruction of the old heaven and earth.

God has control of the elements and can easily translate them into fire.

The earth and the heavens are a bomb that could go off and easily be wiped out.

The Greek word used here for “new” is kainos and it has to do with _____.

Imagine what the new earth will be like: no longer smarting under the curse of sin; no longer ever torn by steel to yield its wealth; no longer infected with thorns and thistles.

Soil never cut into for a grave; sod never moistened with blood or tears; an earth whose forever hills will flow with salvation, whose eternal valleys know only the sweet paradise of God.

John’s attention is drawn to the crown of the new heaven and the new earth, the _____.

New Jerusalem is a bride city because it’s occupied by people who are the bride. The _____.

It is also occupied by the Old Testament Saints.

It is also the hope of _____.

So, has the New Jerusalem existed prior to its “coming down” from heaven?

Some say that the New Jerusalem is at least as old as the
_____, or perhaps even as old as the rapture.

Secondly, let's look at the _____, in the eternal place.

This is when God fully dwells with men in His total revealed glory.

A temple is to hold the symbol of God's presence. If you've got His presence, you don't need a symbol.

God will wipe away every single tear: tears of misfortune; of poverty; of loneliness; of lost love; of sympathy and mercy; of persecuted innocence; of penitence; of remorse; of disappointment; of neglect; of yearning for what cannot be; of unfulfilled dreams –

...whatever tears there are, they are wiped away.

_____ will also pass away.

Then on a positive note, Jesus said “Behold, I make all things new” and “these words are true and faithful.”

Scriptures cited: 2 Peter 3:5-7, 10; Luke 17:29-30; Rev. 21; 2 Cor. 5:17;

Imagine what the new earth will be like: no longer smarting under the curse of sin; no longer ever torn by steel to yield its wealth; no longer infected with thorns and thistles.

Soil never cut into for a grave; sod never moistened with blood or tears; an earth whose forever hills will flow with salvation, whose eternal valleys know only the sweet paradise of God.

John’s attention is drawn to the crown of the new heaven and the new earth, the _____.

New Jerusalem is a bride city because it’s occupied by people who are the bride. The _____.

It is also occupied by the Old Testament Saints.

It is also the hope of _____.

So, has the New Jerusalem existed prior to its “coming down”
