Encouragement Out of Unity

One of the greatest blessings God gives His people is the opportunity to walk together in faith. Christianity was never intended to be a solo journey. We need one another. When believers are united in Christ, encouragement naturally follows.

"So, if there is any encouragement in Christ, any comfort from love, any participation in the Spirit, any affection and sympathy, complete my joy by being of the same mind, having the same love, being in full accord and of one mind." (Philippians 2:1-2)

Notice how Paul connects encouragement with unity. When Christians share the same purpose, love one another, and humbly seek God's will together, the entire congregation is strengthened. Unity creates an environment where weary hearts find hope, struggling Christians find support, and newcomers experience the love of Christ.

Unity does not mean that everyone has the same personality, background, or talents. Instead, it means that we share the same Savior, submit to the same Word, and pursue the same mission. We choose to put Christ above ourselves. As Paul continues, "Do nothing from selfish ambition or conceit, but in humility count others more significant than yourselves" (Philippians 2:3).

Every kind word, every prayer, every visit, every shared burden, and every act of service helps build a church where encouragement flourishes. When we rejoice with those who rejoice and weep with those who weep (Romans 12:15), we remind one another that no Christian walks alone. In a world increasingly divided by politics, culture, and personal agendas, the Lord's church has the opportunity to display something remarkably different. Jesus prayed that His followers would be one so that the world might believe that the Father sent Him (John 17:20-23). Our unity stands as a powerful testimony to those outside the body of Christ.

This week, be intentional about encouraging someone in the church family. Write a note. Make a phone call. Pray with someone. Invite another family into your home. Speak words that build up rather than tear down. As we grow in unity, we will also grow in encouragement, and together we will reflect the love of Christ to our community.

If you need a prayer request added, updated or removed , please use the back of the welcome card and place the card in the collection plate.

Or, you may Email the request to pgr@tampabay.rr.com or text 352-601-7306.
