September 2026

From the Pastor's Desk:

Walking in Faith, Sowing Christ's Love

'Walking in Faith, Sowing Christ's Love' invites us to explore what it means to follow Christ in everyday life. Each month, we will reflect on Scripture, Lutheran teaching, and practical ways to grow in faith and share God's love with others. Through these reflections, we hope to deepen our trust in God's promises, live out our calling as Christ's disciples, and find guidance for nurturing faith in our homes, workplaces, and communities. Each article concludes with a question for personal reflection, helping us walk more faithfully with God.

September – Learning as Disciples

To walk in faith is to remain a learner. The word disciple itself means student — one who follows in order to learn. Christian maturity is not graduation from learning but deeper immersion into it. Faith seeks understanding, and understanding continually leads us back to Christ.

At the close of Matthew's Gospel, Jesus commands His followers: 'Go therefore and make disciples of all nations… teaching them to obey everything that I have commanded you' (Matthew 28:19–20). Notice that discipleship includes teaching. The Church is not only a worshiping community but a learning community. We gather around Scripture because we trust that God continues to speak through it.

In Lutheran theology, this commitment to learning is reflected in catechesis — the lifelong formation in the essentials of faith. Luther wrote the Small Catechism not merely for clergy but for families, urging parents to teach their children and revisit the basics regularly. The Ten Commandments, the Creed, the Lord's Prayer — these are not elementary truths to outgrow but foundational truths to return to again and again.

Learning as disciples also means humility. Proverbs 9:10 says, 'The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom.' Reverence opens us to growth. Pride closes us off. To be a disciple is to acknowledge that we do not know everything — and that we are continually being shaped by God's Word.

Importantly, Christian learning is not accumulation of information but transformation of life. Paul writes that 'All scripture is inspired by God and is useful for teaching, for reproof, for correction, and for training in righteousness' (2 Timothy 3:16–17). The goal is not intellectual mastery but formation in Christlikeness.

The Holy Spirit is our teacher. Jesus promises in John 14:26 that the Spirit 'will teach you everything, and remind you of all that I have said to you.' This teaching happens not only in classrooms or Bible studies but through worship, prayer, service, suffering, and community life.

In a culture saturated with information, Christian learning is distinctive because it centers on Christ. We learn in order to love better, serve more faithfully, and trust more deeply. Knowledge without love becomes arrogance. Learning shaped by grace becomes wisdom.

Walking in faith requires continual reorientation. We forget easily. We drift. We absorb assumptions from the world around us. Returning to Scripture re-centers us. It reminds us who God is and who we are.

As this new season begins — often associated with education and fresh rhythms — we are invited to renew our commitment to learning as disciples. Not because we lack faith, but because faith grows through attentive listening.

Reflection Question:
Where might God be inviting you to deepen your learning this season — through Scripture, study, conversation, or renewed spiritual practices?

Pastor Steve

Upcoming Worship

Below are the lessons and some thoughts about the upcoming Sundays. Please take some time to look over the lesson and reflect upon them in preparation of the upcoming weeks in worship.

September 6th:

Text—Matthew 18:21-35
{One Service @ 9 AM}

In today's second reading Paul questions why we judge one another, since we all stand before the judgment of God. Yet we do sin against one another, and Jesus' challenge that we forgive seventy-seven times reveals God's boundless mercy. When we hear the words of forgiveness in worship and sign ourselves with the cross, we are renewed in baptism to be signs of reconciliation in the world.

September 13th:

Emphasis—Mission Festival

Today is the Mission Festival. Our guest speaker is Ridge Swaney. He and his family worship regularly with us at the 8:00 Service. Ridge is a chaplain for a US Military Vets Motorcycle Club in Columbus, IN. He will share his testimony of how God called him into this ministry and what he is doing for the people in the club. In this, we see how God can call us to ministries we may not have thought about and how we are all called to be servants in our communities.

September 20th:

Text—Matthew 20:1-16

Matthew narrates one of Jesus' controversial parables in which Jesus says that the reign of God is like that of a landowner who pays his workers the same wage no matter what time of day they began to work. When God changes God's mind about punishing Nineveh for their evil ways, Jonah is angry. Yet God is gracious and merciful, abounding in steadfast love. In baptism we receive the grace of God that is freely given to all. As Martin Luther wrote, in the presence of God's mercy we are all beggars.

September 27th:

Text—Matthew 21:23-32

Jesus' parable about two sons who don't do what they say reveals surprises in the reign of God. In the reading from Ezekiel the people claim the ways of the Lord are unfair, while God offers repentance and new life. Paul urges us to look to Christ as a model of humility, putting the interests of others above our own. Nourished by the broken bread and shared cup, we offer our lives for the sake of our needy world.

Romans: Living in the Power of God's Grace

Paul's Letter to the Romans is one of the most influential and profound books of the New Testament. Written to a diverse community of Jewish and Gentile Christians in Rome, Paul's letter explores the heart of the Christian faith and the transforming power of God's grace. Along the way, we will consider how this ancient letter continues to shape the Church and our daily lives today.
