

Keep the Fire Burning

Romans 12:11,12

The Apostle Paul teaches the church how to live beyond the sanctuary by developing a new mindset - new ways, new characters, and new behaviors.

Jesus has ushered in a new kingdom and there is a different set of rules than those of the world. We have spiritual gifts with jobs to do, and the expectation is that we do them cheerfully. No one is superior to the other, as we each need one another.

Paul pointed out the importance of love and what it means being connected to God. Adopting God's mind and principles, doing good, being devoted to each other exhibits God's love.

Those in leadership positions must remain humble as they flow in the anointing and gifts God has bestowed upon them to operate in the assignment they have been given.

In the meantime, you must keep your spiritual fervor with zeal, glowing, growing, enthusiastic, and joyful with hope. Having joy will keep you and give you peace of mind.

You must be patient in affliction. Though he slays you, yet will you trust him. He is a heart fixer, burden bearer, and a mind regulator.

Always be faithful in prayer no matter how long it takes for God to answer. Prayer connects you to God. It is him that you desire more than the answered prayer.

Do what is right and be at peace, walk humbly with your God, and have mercy on those that need mercy.
