Genesis 12:1-9

The Call of Abraham

"Abram!" called God.

Abram looked around. "Is that you, God?"

"Yes. I want you to do something."

Abram scratched his head. "What do you want me to do?"

"I want you to take your wife, Sarai, and go far, far away from your home."

"But...why?" Abram asked. It sounded scary.

God's voice was loving. "I want to have a special relationship with you," God said. "I will give you your own country. I will give you kids and grandkids and great-grandkids until there's a whole nation. People will remember your name forever."

Abram was stunned. "Wow! That's amazing! Why would you give me all that?"

"I will bless you because I want you to be a blessing to the whole world. I want you to share my love with everyone."

So Abram went, just as God asked.

Did You Know?

God later changed Abram's name to Abraham. He changed Abraham's wife Sarai's name to Sarah. In the Bible, when people's names changed, it meant their lives changed, too!
