Twenty-second Sunday

after Pentecost

October 25, 2026

Today's lessons:

- Deuteronomy 34:1-12 Because for a moment he had lost trust in God and in his mission, Moses dies before actually reaching his destination. But God lets him at least have a peek at the Promised Land. Then Moses dies and Joshua becomes the new leader.
- Psalms 90:1-6, 13-17 Humans live and die, one generation after another, but God doesn't change and continues to care for us.
- 1 Thessalonians 2:1-8 When Paul first came to the Thessalonians and told them about Jesus Christ, he had already gotten into trouble for spreading the gospel. But he doesn't do it to get popular or to make money, but because that is what God wants from him.
- Matthew 22:34-46 The Pharisees have one more test for Jesus: they ask him what which commandment is most important. Then it's Jesus' turn: he asks them a question that silences them.

the all important question

The Pharisees and Sadducees have tested Jesus with a lot of questions. Now he is asking them

WHY SOUTH DAKOTA FINE HITS HOME

No, that's not the question.

You have to rearrange the letters to find it:

From Generation to Generation

Psalm 90 notes that for God time is not the same as it is for us.

Can you sort it out?

(You just have to move each letter up in its column, until you find the place in the grid, where it fits.)

Fearless messengers

Being an apostle, one of Christ's messengers, can be inconvenient, even dangerous. But, as Paul explains to the Thessalonians, if God wants you to go, you gotta go!
